Budget

Representative Sommers offered a striker amendment to SB 6090, which passed the House floor on April 8. The amendment added the budget request for the JIN Program Office.

JIN Data Exchange (JINDEX)

I received a draft of the design document today, which included comments from Microsoft. I have forwarded the document to the Technical Advisory Group for review and comment. We will meet on the 19th before the Board meeting for a walk-through of the document with the project team.

Electronic Citations

Responses to the Request for Proposals were due Friday. I can see some boxes through the window of the Contracts and Legal Affairs office (it's Saturday and the door is locked), at least one of which is clearly a response.

Miscellaneous

- I met with Rob McKenna, the new Attorney General, to brief him on JIN issues. We have continued discussions about a possible revival of the SMART system. This issue, which was scheduled for discussion by the Board next week, has been postponed until the May meeting to allow some more time for information gathering.
- I began discussions with Microsoft and the National Center for State Courts about a presentation on the JINDEX at the upcoming Court Technology Conference in Seattle this fall.
